Staying Competitive and Protecting Your Practice in a Difficult Real Estate Market

The practice of real estate in South Carolina continues to evolve at a rapid pace. Economic factors have impacted all our practices - both residential and commercial. Now is an ideal time to identify areas where we can add value for our clients.

Please join us for an informative seminar for real estate practitioners, featuring an update/primer on available state law tax incentives that may help to accelerate economically-stalled deals, a discussion about what you should know about AI and how it may impact your practice, how to prepare yourself for a cyberattack and a case law / legislative update to keep busy practitioners up to date.
